Ice Causes Severe Property Damage In County

The worst ice storm in two and a half decades swept a narrow swath of destruction across the crest of the South Mountains west of Gettysburg over the weekend, causing thousands of dollars damage to trees, utility wires and timber. The ice began to form late Thursday and increased Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Between two and three inches of snow fell Sunday. These pictures show some of the extensive damage across the mountain in the Mt. Newman and Buchanan Valley sections. Top photographs were taken at the summer home of C. W. Epley, Gettysburg, on Mt. Newman, showing how the ice broke off large limbs on several of the beautiful willow trees surrounding the home. The ice on tree limbs was as much as two inches thick, the pictures show how ice broke the tops out of trees, blocked highways and tore down wires. Picture in second row, right, shows one of the many cherry trees split asunder in a Buchanan Valley orchard. Lower left gives an indication of the depth of snow and ice at the top of the hill north of the Lincoln Highway on a gravel road which extends to St. Ignatius Church. —Photos by The Gettysburg Times.

RELEASE DRIVER AFTER INQUEST IN TRUCK CRASH

A coroner's jury Monday evening failed to fix full blame for the truck trailer crash at York Springs at dawn last November 6 that took the life of Harry M. Bacon, 29, Savannah, Ga., and Wesley A. Hoisington, 52, Highland Park, Mich., the surviving driver, was allowed to return home with the probability developing that he will not face criminal charges as a result of the crash.

Faced with conflicting testimony, the jury held that Hoisington had attempted to cross the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Highway at York Springs, traveling from Hanover toward Carlisle, when such a move could not be made safely but added that they found no evidence that Bacon had made any effort on his own part to avoid the collision.

Bacon was northbound on the Harrisburg Rd. and was killed instantly when the cab of his big truck and trailer combination was crushed under the Hoisington trailer. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, who conducted the inquest, told the jury two and a half hours were required to remove the man's body from the wreckage of his truck.

Five witnesses testified before Hoisington, who came here voluntarily from Michigan for the inquest, stood on his rights and declined to make any statement to the jury. He was represented at the inquest by Attorney Franklin R. Bigham. Attorney Richard A. Brown represented the Bacon estate. Mrs. Bacon and her two young children occupied a front bench in the court room.

FIX NO BLAME IN FATAL CRASH AT CROSS KEYS

A factual verdict returned by a coroner's jury Monday afternoon led District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter to announce that in view of the findings of the jury and in the absence of evidence of gross carelessness no charges will be brought as a result of the fatal crash October 25 at Cross Keys in which a honeymooning couple were fatally injured and the father of the bride injured.

The jury, following the inquest conducted by Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist, returned a verdict that Raymond Crites Jr., 18, and his bride of 12 days, Mrs. Dorothy Crites, Ross-ville, York County, had come to their deaths as a result of fractured skulls and internal injuries caused by the force of a collision between the car in which they were riding and a truck at the Cross Keys intersection.

Die In Ambulance

The two died enroute to the Hanover Hospital in the Hanover fire company ambulance.

Harry L. Divel, 56, East Berlin R. 1, father of the deceased bride, told the jury he, his daughter and son-in-law, had been driving north on the Hanover road. He said he stopped for the stop sign and waited to see what a convertible car, approaching from the west, would do. The car turned into the Hanover road, and the driver waved. Divel said he did not know the occupant of the convertible and that his daughter and son-in-law leaned forward to see if they could recognize the occupants of the other car. Divel said he looked to the east, in back Springs, traveling from Hanover toward Carlisle, when such a move could not be made safely but added that they found no evidence that Bacon had made any effort on his own part to avoid the collision.

SEWER, WATER AVAILABLE AT SCHOOL SITE

As far as can be determined at the present time the new elementary school in Colt Park can obtain sewer and water facilities from present mains at Queen St. and Highland Ave., two witnesses told a hearing Monday afternoon at the court house.

John Long, manager of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority, and Wilbur E. Redding, Gettysburg R. D. surveyor, both told a board of view seeking to determine how much the school board must pay for the property it took from the Colt Park Development Co. that in their opinion the school will probably be able to make sewer and water connections from the Queen St.-Highland Ave. intersection, closest main to the proposed school.

Mr. Redding showed drafts he had made of the elevation at that point for the Municipal Authority. The mains can be extended 190 feet west of the Queen St.-Fairview Ave. intersection before the mains would be up to the 3 feet-eight inch limitation, he said. The new school is to be constructed near the Fairview Ave.-Queen St. intersection.

To Cost $6 Per Foot

Long said that "as far as we can determine, without knowing the exact location planned for the school, it can be attached at the present ending of the mains at Queen St. and Highland Ave. Unless we run into rock the cost will be about $6 per foot for installation. And on the extension of Highland Ave. in the same hill, we went 320 feet in length and to a depth of nine feet without finding rock."

Mr. Long testified that for a 12-year period after a new main is laid, the person placing the main is reimbursed $189 per additional connection to its original line. In addition he receives a $101.25 refund for each fire hydrant attached to the main. Hydrants, Mr. Long said, "are placed between 500 and 600 feet apart." He added that there is nothing to prevent the Municipal Authority from taking in customers outside the borough. Part of Colt Park is in Cumberland Twp.

SAYS CANNERS BUY 85 PER CENT OF VEGETABLES

Eighty-five per cent of all the major vegetable crops grown in the state are purchased by Pennsylvania canners for processing, Charles W. York, York, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Canners Association, told the local Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening at the YWCA.

Three billion dollars are invested in the farms — land and equipment, in the state, a larger sum than is invested in any other major industry, York said. "The next time anyone calls you a steel puffer or a coal miner tell them you come from a state which has more invested in farms than in coal mining and steel making combined."

York added, "While you may think food prices are high, actually they are lower than ever, proportionately. Today 47 cents of the consumer's dollar goes for the food the farmer grows, leaving 53 cents to spend with all you other fellows, the auto salesman, clothing manufacturer, newspaper publisher, attorney, and everyone else from whom the public secures products or services. What that means is that it takes less of the consumer's income today for him to feed himself than it has for 37 years."

Public Eats Better

"Incidentally we are also eating higher on the hog today than ever before. We get the choicest cuts of meat, the finest quality vegetables because the farmer is prosperous, and when he is prosperous the nation's economy is in high gear."

"Today more than ever before the farmer and the manufacturer or person providing services have (Please Turn to Page 6)

EXECUTIVE BD. GETS REPORT ON BUILDING PLANS FOR 2 SCHOOLS

Reports of progress in planning for both the new elementary school here and the addition to the local high school were presented Monday evening at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board at the office of the superintendent in the local high school building.

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools, said the high school addition plans "are just about through." The drawings have been approved by the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg and now have to go before the arts commission of the state and the Department of Labor and Industry. But usually their approval comes and rather quickly after the Department of Public Instruction is satisfied, he said. The addition will include classrooms and a new auditorium.

Sketches About Ready

The break-down of costs and the furniture list for the proposed elementary school have been completed. Dr. Keefe said. Preliminary sketches for the building are expected from the architect in the very near future, he added, "after which the entire board will have the opportunity to go over them and make whatever changes are considered necessary, before we start to put the plans through at Harrisburg."

Purchase of 18 stools for the industrial arts department was ordered with Business Manager Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr. appointed to decide whether steel or wooden stools should be bought after an investigation. Roberts and Meek, Harrisburg, are offering wooden stools at $3.70 each and $4.85 for steel construction.

Eighteen music racks were ordered for use at Lincoln School.

The committee approved attendance by Dr. Keefe at the National Superintendents' Convention (Please Turn to Page 6)

YOUNG PASTOR IS A FUGITIVE FROM COMMIES

The Rev. Gideon Eugene Galambos, 25, who will be installed as pastor of the Emmitsburg-Taneytown-Piney Creek charge of the Presbyterian Church of the Baltimore Presbytery on Thursday evening, January 15, is a native of Czechoslovakia. His father was president of a Calvinist Theological Seminary, and both his father and mother are still in Czechoslovakia, behind the "Iron Curtain."

Rev. Galambos, because of conditions in his native land, went to Germany first, where he remained for several years. His musical talents brought an invitation to come to the United States. He arrived here in February, 1951, began his study for the ministry, and graduated from Temple University School of Theology. His study for the ministry was sponsored by the Ardmore Presbyterian Church.

While studying at the University of Prague, Mr. Galambos was twice arrested by Communist secret police. Under dangerous conditions, he made his escape to Germany, where he was for two years manager of a Spiritual Training Center of the World Council of Churches and pastor of the International Children's Village sponsored by the United Nations.

Rev. Mr. Galambos is single.

CONDUCT APPLE BOOTH AT SHOW

Mrs. Eleanor Griest, Flora Dale, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the State Horticultural Association in charge of activities at the Farm Show, said today that the chief aim of the apple booth being conducted at the show by the auxiliary is to "acquaint the public with the wide variety of apples and apple products. Then when they buy apples, they'll know what they're getting and how to use what they get."

The Horticultural Association features Golden Delicious, Red Delicious, Jonathan and Stayman at its Farm Show booth. Over 75,000 apples were sold at the booth last year, in addition to 3,000 five-pound bags of apples plus 600 gallons of apple juice. The Horticultural Association hopes to top those figures at the 1953 show. Proceeds from the booth support the annual Apple Pandowdy contest for Future Homemakers of America throughout the state.

FIRE POLICE TO BE SWORN INTO CD HERE FEB. 6

Plans for all of the county's fire police to be sworn in as auxiliary police under the county's Civil Defense program were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Fire Police Association of Adams County held at the Greenmount fire house.

The approximately 150 fire police named by the 25 companies in the county will report at the Court House on February 9 at 8 p.m. for the formal taking of their oath as auxiliary police.

Glenn L. Raffensperger, vice president of the association, who presided at Monday's session, urged those present to personally contact all other fire police in their territories to be sure that all those scheduled to serve as auxiliary police are present for the oath taking ceremony. A meeting of the fire police will be held at the same time.

Reports presented at the meeting indicated that practically all of the fire police named have now been officially sworn in by their supervisors. Only one company still has that requirement to fill, Secretary Bernard V. Miller said.

The March meeting of the fire police will be held at Fountaindale, it was decided.

BAND UNIFORM FUND GROWING

"Very well pleased" with the progress of the campaign funds for new uniforms for the Gettysburg High School Band, President Elmer H. Schriver told members of the Band Boosters' Club Monday evening at the high school building, there is now about $1,850 in the fund.

While he said he hoped organizations considering donations to the uniform fund will act soon so that the Boosters' group can go ahead with plans to order the first new uniforms for the band in 15 years, he called on Paul R. Mehring's committee on uniform selection for a report.

Mehring's group, which had a meeting last week and will meet again February 2 with representatives of firms making band uniforms, expects to have a report and recommendations ready for a February meeting of the Band Boosters. Schriver indicated a special meeting may be called to reach a decision on the style, color and grade of uniforms to be ordered for the band.

A PTA rummage sale and donations from a number of local organizations have boosted the uniform fund. On Saturday the Boosters' organization served a lunch to the Adams Electric Cooperative members at their annual meeting at the high school but final figures on the amount cleared there are not available, the president said.

MORSE BUMPED BY REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Conference of Republican Senators today upset a compromise plan and bumped Sen. Morse (Ind-Rep) off his two major committee assignments.

The GOP senators decided to take all of the eight majority places on the Armed Services committee and all of the seven majority places on the Labor Committee. The result was to knock Morse off both coveted spots.

This left open for Morse, who bolted the Republican party during the presidential campaign, sp on two minor committees. They are groups dealing with District of Columbia matters and public works. Every senator is entitled by law to two committee assignments.

Morse already had served notice he would fight on the Senate floor any effort to push him off the two major committee jobs. This probably will come this afternoon when the majority and minority committee assignments go before the full Senate.

The GOP Committee on Committees, which handles assignments of the Republican senators, had recommended to the conference a compromise plan.

Under it, Morse would have gone off Labor but stayed on Armed Services. However, this was overturned by what Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), conference chairman, described as a "very strong" voice vote.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market got its bearings after an uncertain start today.

The decline that ruled yesterday's trend was very much in evidence when the exchange opened today but after the sizable batch of overnight orders were cleared out prices steadied and then turned higher with steel, radio-electronics, rails, chemicals and motors well represented in the plus column. While gains were generally confined to fractions, a few managed to scale the full point hurdle, there were scattered losers in all major groups.

The Eisenhower Story 8.

Buys a Farm

In the fall of 1942, in the dank caves of Gibraltar, Dwight D. Eisenhower began writing his memoirs while waiting for the North African invasion to begin.

He didn't return to the book until early in 1948 at Ft. Myer, Va., and after 46 days of intensive dictation completed "Crusade in Europe." It was written with typical Eisenhower tact and humility. It made no one mad.

The book made Eisenhower wealthy for the first time. He was paid $635,000 for the rights and paid the government a capital gains tax of $158,750.

With the money, Ike and Mamie were able to buy a 160-acre farm near Gettysburg, Pa., the first home they ever owned. But they have yet to live on it.

In the spring of 1948, Ike became President of Columbia University.

In the next year and a half, he began to speak out on public issues he hadn't been able to discuss as an Army officer. He continued to plead the cause of international cooperation but he also tackled domestic problems.

Eisenhower argued that too much emphasis was being placed on personal security at the expense of personal liberty.

Opposing class warfare between labor and capital, he said:

Becomes President of Columbia

"We miserably fail to challenge the lie that what is good for management is necessarily bad for labor; that for one side to profit, the other must be depressed."

In such statements, some people thought they saw Eisenhower emerging as an avowed political candidate.

Oct. 15, 1950, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, titular head of the Republican party, came out for Eisenhower for President. Dewey was the first important party leader to endorse the general. The general, however, said his views, hadn't changed since 1948. Besides, he was about to have more pressing business elsewhere.

One night in December, 1950, Eisenhower delivered a speech near Bucyrus, O. Later that evening he had just returned to his railroad car when he was told Washington was trying to reach him by phone.

Eisenhower took the call at a nearby freight house. It was President Truman calling. Would Eisenhower command supreme headquarters in Europe for the budding North Atlantic Treaty Organization?

Eisenhower would. Eighteen days later, back in uniform, Ike was flying to Paris to lead another crusade, this time the arms buildup against communism.

SOVIETS CHARGE 9 DOCTORS WITH DEATHS OF TWO

MOSCOW (P) — The Soviet press and radio announced today the arrest of nine doctors — most of them Jews — on charges of killing two top Russian leaders and plotting the deaths of others on instructions from British and American intelligence services and Zionist organizations.

The announcement said the doctors admitted killing Andrei A. Zhdanov, one of the leading members of the powerful Politburo until his death in 1948, and Alexander S. Scherbakov, head of the chief political administration of the Soviet Army, who died in 1945.

The announcement by Tass, the Soviet news agency, said others marked for death included War Minister Marshal Alexander M. Vassilevsky; Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander in chief of Soviet ground forces, and his chief of staff, Gen. S. M. Shtemenko; Marshal Leonid A. Govorov, who commanded Red armies in Finland during World War II, and Adm. G. I. Levchenko, deputy Navy minister.

Leading military figures were the first targets, said Tass, "but arrest thwarted their villainous plan and the criminals failed to achieve their goal."

The nine doctors were identified as Professors M. S. Vovsi, V. N. Vinogradov, M. B. Kogan, B. B. Kogan, P. I. Yegorov, A. I. Feldman, Y. A. Etinger, A. M. Drinshstein and G. I. Mayorov.

Tass said they "criminally undermined" their patients' health, "deliberately made incorrect diagnoses and then, by incorrect healing methods, destroyed them."

(The Russian accusations against the doctors and the Jewish agency coincide with a wave of anti-Semitic purges and trials reported throughout Soviet-controlled Eastern Europe in recent months.)

MOST KEY JOBS IN SENATE ARE BEING ASSIGNED

WASHINGTON (P) — The Republican majority sought to clear the way for the Senate to start work by completing today the committee assignments of all GOP senators.

The key assignments, which determine what sort of legislative career a senator follows, were largely settled yesterday at a series of closed-door sessions.

They come today before the Conference of All GOP Senators, where the final decisions will be made.

To Ratify Today Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), the majority leader, arranged to have the full Senate ratify both the majority and minority committee assignments later in the day.

The same committee organization problem is holding up the House, and assignments there were not ready for ratification at today's session. The chief problem in the House is on the Republican side; leaders hope to have it worked out in time to complete organization on Thursday.

Formal ratification in the Senate would largely complete organization and permit the committees to hold informal hearings later this week on President-elect Eisenhower's Cabinet appointees.

Harmonious Session Eisenhower has asked that his Cabinet be confirmed on inauguration day, a week from today. Republican and Democratic Senate leaders have promised to do so, providing the prospective Cabinet officers can be quizzed informally in advance for their formal appointments.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.), the new chairman of the armed services committee, announced yesterday that Charles E. Wilson, defense secretary-designate, and other top service chiefs in the new administration will appear before his group Thursday.

The Democrats worked out their committee assignments yesterday in a harmonious steering committee session. They contrived to give each of their freshmen a major committee post—an unusual feat made easier this year by the changes in size of committees.

Trellis Quits Family Budget Job And Wilbur Starts Yapping

By HAL BOYLE HOMETOWN, U. S. A. (P)—Wilbur Peeble, like every other average American husband, is sternly in favor of family economy.

"Where does all the money go?" he wails at least once each month to his wife, who pays the bills.

This year Trellis Mae decided to put her little man on the spot.

"I'm tired of hearing you yelp," she said, shoving under his nose a sheet scribbled with figures.

"What's this?" he asked.

"It's my final budget report for 1952—and a projected 1953 budget for you," said Trellis Mae. "I am resigning with Truman and you're coming in with Eisenhower. From now on you handle the money in this family, and I'll scream for more economy."

"Um-m-m-m-m," said Wilbur. "How much did we save in 1952 under your administration?"

Lower Deficit

"On account of you insisted we buy that new car we are exactly $900 in the hole," said Trellis Mae. "But that is still $5,899,999,100 less than the deficit Truman left Ike."

Wilbur tried to look grateful. Then he studied the projected 1953 budget his wife had drawn up. It showed that by 1954 they should have $1,000 in the bank.

"You will note again that I am doing better by you than Harry did by Ike," said Trellis Mae. "Harry figured that if the Republicans follow his farewell budget they will be ten billion bucks deeper in debt."

Wilbur inspected the figures more closely.

"I don't see any provisions here for our annual dues in the Quagmire Hills Country Club," he said. "Nor have you put down an item for my new spring suit. And what do you mean by cutting the food budget $100?"

"Well, you Republicans say the only way to balance the budget is to cut down expenses," said Trellis Mae. "So under your administration this family is going to have to tighten its belt. You can give up golf, make your own clothes last another year, and eat less. You're overweight anyway."

Wilbur looked glum.

$500 For Trellis "But I see you have put down $500 for clothing and beauty parlor expenses for yourself," he complained.

"Women's looks are her first line of defense," replied Trellis Mae firmly. "Anybody knows you can't cut defense expenditures from a budget. It's fatal to inner security."

Wilbur's face got longer and longer.

"What is this item here?" he asked, pointing at a line that said: "Wilbur's welfare fund—$1 a day."

"That's your lunch and pocket money."

"I can't get by on a buck a day."

"You'll either have to—or figure out a new source of revenue. Maybe you can sell magazine subscriptions on your days off."

"And I don't see any item at all about our vacation."

"We'll stay home this year—and you can paint the house," said Trellis Mae. "That'll save more money."

Wilbur Declines

Wilbur stared blankly at the figures. Then he said tentatively:

"Honey, will you do me a favor? Please handle the money again this year. I don't want a new administration—in this house."

"On one condition—that you don't yell all the time about where all the money goes."

"No yells," Wilbur promised. He went into the bedroom and lay down his head ached.

Trellis Mae immediately got up, tore her projected 1953 budget into pieces, and threw them into the wastebasket, humming happily.

Then she sat down and began to figure how she could afford to buy a new electric dishwasher. She knew she would find some way to fit it into the family's finances. Wives always do.

Sees Signs Of Ike "Begging Off" Now

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Neely (D-WVa.) said today he sees "signs of Eisenhower begging off from his campaign promises" to press for more liberal social security benefits for the aged.

Neely said a Republican proposal to create a new Hoover study commission to look into social security and other problems "does not look anything like a move in behalf of the President-elect's pledges." Rather, he said, "it seems to offer an excuse for delay."

Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), a member of the Senate Finance Committee, which handles social security legislation, was told of Neely's comment and he said in an interview: "The Democrats oughtn't to criticize that way. The general is trying to carry out his campaign pledges to the best of his ability, and I know of no move by him to 'beg off' anything."

SAYS DPA MUST CUT CHISELING OF RELIEF FUNDS

HARRISBURG (P) — At least $1,600,000 could be saved every two years if the State Department of Public Assistance would tighten up on relief "chiselers," the Chesterman committee believes.

"Under the present policy, the department is in the position of offering encouragement to those who have fraudulent leanings," said a week-end report of the State Government Economy Committee. The committee, set up by Gov. John S. Fine to study efficiency and economy in the state government, recommended a 10 per cent penalty on those recipients found to be falsifying their applications.

Half Were Recovered

In 1950 overpayments amounted to $4,860,000, or about four per cent of the total paid out in relief. About half of the overpayments were recovered.

Persons now found to be receiving more money than they are entitled to must turn the overpayments and then continue receiving public assistance at the adjusted rates. The department usually obtains a court order attaching any property of the relief recipient which is invoked at the time he leaves the rolls.

The department already is using reduced grants to recover overpayments in six counties—Luzerne, Delaware, Mercer, Washington, Montgomery and Blair.

The committee, headed by Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia, also recommended:

1. Obtaining court action to force responsible relatives to contribute to the support of a relief recipient.

2. That department "visitors" need not have a college education if they are otherwise qualified—a move to eliminate the present shortage.

3. That relief rolls be opened to "legitimate organizations and individuals" requesting information without "indiscriminate publication" of such lists.

Today's Talk

DON'T MIND

We happen to be human beings, each formed from a similar mould but with variations and characteristics unique to each one of us. Is it any wonder, therefore, that we have differences of mind as expressed through our thoughts?

As we grow older we learn to eliminate our petty jealousies, envies, and immature judgments. We learn to overlook, to be tolerant, and to — never mind. This is easier than we think — if we form the habit. The more successful we are, and the more friends we have, the more we will be misjudged and misrepresented. Far more people will hope to get something from us rather than learn something from us.

None of us can hope to avoid criticism or, at times, abuse. Just don't mind. Both have dogged the noblest and greatest. Sooner or later this criticism and abuse are melted away like the early fog that we have so often seen gather in the morning and then wiped away by the wind and light of the golden Sun. What a world of meaning in those two words — "No comment!"

Precious metals have to be refined, gotten down to their pure character. It is its own defense. basis. It's the same with personal character may not have a voice. Nothing else is required. Silent but it has an echo that has many a time gone around the world. And there is something eternal to it.

It is such a waste of words and effort to "answer back." Our newspapers give to us all too many tragic examples of the futility of it. Just don't mind. A few years ago there was a popular phrase that people used. It was "rise above it!" That's what we should do in regard to all disputes or misunderstandings, abusive criticisms or evil judgments.

Lies have short lives. They call for too much nourishment. People who invent them run out of funds! We all make plenty of mistakes, but they are soon forgotten if we start each new day with a clean slate.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Attempt—at Any Time."

POINT OF NO RETURN
All airport pilots quickly learn there is a "point of no return" when, whatever they may lack, they've passed the time for turning back.

Old Father Time is just as stern. He sets the point of no return. For instance, once his youth has fled the way for man lies straight ahead.

When half-way through his years is he,
He can't go back a boy to be
And pick up that digestion good
And eat the things which once he could.

I'm fond of cake and apple pie
And still the wish for them have I.
But by the rules of doctors curd
I've reached the point of no desert.

Gas Went Out: For some reason there was trouble with the gas throughout the town on Wednesday night shortly after midnight and as a consequence many of the burners which are kept burning all night were noticed by Watchman Noel and Policemen Gordon and McDannell to have gone out. Supposing that something was wrong they proceeded to awaken all whom they knew kept light aglow all night. Their discovery was a timely one.

The night porter at the city hotel, John Baltimore, was almost apoplectic. Officer Gordon and Watchman Noel were just in the nick of time to save John's life.

The gas had ceased to burn at the following places: City Hotel, Washington House, Dr. Diehl's, Penrose Myers, Geo. P. Young's, L. Kirsin's, John M. Minnigh's, L. D. Miller's, Amos Eckert's, I. Hallen's and other places.

It is supposed that water in the pipes caused the pressure to become low thus extinguishing the gas.

STATE'S RELIEF

AID TO BE CUT

$10-20 MILLION

HARRISBURG—A state fiscal expert estimated today the relief appropriation to be asked from the 1953 Legislature will be 10 to 20 million dollars less than for the current two-year fiscal period.

The spokesman, who declined quotation by name, said a decline in the public assistance load will sharply curtail the need for an appropriation such as the 135 millions authorized by the 1951 Legislature.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Evans, public assistance secretary, confirmed the fact of the reduced case load but declined comment on what her recommendations will be to Gov. John S. Pine.

"We may have a surplus at the end of this biennium but things are pretty unsettled," she told a newsman. "We have about five months to go before the biennium ends."

227,000 On Roles
The relief load now totals about 227,000 persons.

The fiscal expert, in making his estimate of 1953-55 relief needs, used last November's cost of $4,700,000 as a gauge of monthly payments to be expected in the next 24 months unless sharp unemployment enters the picture.

Multiplying that figure by 24 months, the total is nearly 113 millions. Fine, in his legislative message last week, said the department will operate "well within its appropriation for the first time since the 1943-45 biennium."

"During the past two years total dependency has been reduced by 32 per cent," Fine said. "The monthly cost of assistance from state funds has fallen 35 per cent in the same period despite increased assistance allowance given in recognition of the increased cost of living."

In addition to state money, the Public Assistance Department has been receiving about $4,400,000 a month from the federal government for relief costs, mostly for old age insurance and aid to dependent children.

A pound of coal produces about as much heat as would be produced by burning 1,300 safety matches from end to end.

STANDARD OIL OF NEW JERSEY REJECTS OFFER OF JUSTICE DEPT.

WASHINGTON—A Justice Department offer to compromise its antitrust action against an alleged international oil cartel bogged down today amid hot words pointing to almost certain rejection.

One major prospective defendant, Standard Oil of New Jersey, turned down the offer and thus apparently killed hopes of compromise since the government offer was made on condition that all of the companies concerned accept it.

Arthur H. Dean, Standard Oil attorney, called the proposition "cold and outrageous blackmail" and said his company would have no part in it.

Fears Aid To Soviet
At the same time, Stephen J. Spingarn, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, called for congressional investigation of the oil companies, including what he described as "the propaganda campaign of vilification they are waging against their own government in 67 foreign countries."

Spingarn, a Democrat, contended that any backing down by the U. S. government would play directly into the hands of Soviet interests abroad.

The Justice Department said it was keeping open for the companies concerned to come in and compromise the matter—but no one talked very hopefully about this happening after the action by Standard of New Jersey.

Stormy Session
A stormy session between Atty. Gen. McGranery and oil company lawyers yesterday included a government suggestion that the companies let him know by 11 a. m., EST, today what they will do about the government offer.

In the absence of unanimous acceptance, justice officials said they will go ahead with the criminal antitrust investigation pending before a federal grand jury here and scheduled to resume its sessions tomorrow. That would throw the whole matter into the lap of the Eisenhower administration.

Reportedly acting on the advice of the National Security Council, President Truman yesterday suggested to McGranery that the proceeding be abandoned in favor of a civil antitrust action.

"Take It Or Leave It"
His proposal carried the key proviso—that the petroleum giants co-operate in preparation of the pre-cited civil case against them by supplying records which the government hasn't yet gotten by grand jury subpoena.

Dean said McGranery described the offer as "cold turkey," that is, take it or leave it. He said all the companies concerned had been asked for "a blank check" in favor of the government and that the attorney general had been "discourteous and insulting."

Spokesmen for McGranery said later the plan involved the filing of a general "skeleton" antitrust complaint which the government would fill in with particulars after it got the records it is seeking.

Started By FTC
A criminal antitrust conviction involves fines for corporations and fines and possible jail sentences for individuals. A civil antitrust action involves court orders terminating arrangements challenged as illegal by the government and injunctions against continuation of such practices.

The whole investigation stems from a Federal Trade Commission study alleging that Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Gulf Oil Corp. and Texas Oil Company had joined foreign oil companies in a world cartel which divided international markets and dominated production, distribution and pricing.

The companies denied any cartel arrangements but McGranery sent the whole matter to a grand jury here last September.

The records of some 20 American companies were subpoenaed, but about half of these concerns have carried on a long and bitter fight against producing them.

AIR CRASH HELD "INEXCUSABLE" BY REP. SHORT

WASHINGTON—Rep. Short (R-Mo.) today termed "inexcusable" the crash of an Air Force C124 Globemaster which killed 87 persons in aviation's worst accident near Seattle Dec. 20.

He made the statement as the House Armed Services Committee recalled Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg and other top Air Force officials to continue a probe of seven military accidents which claimed 234 lives in November and December.

Another 55 persons were killed in two other military accidents in the Far East during that period.

Short, to be chairman of the committee, said the "oversight" of crewmen was mainly responsible for the "inexcusable" Globemaster crash. "This," he told a reporter, "means the Air Force has to tighten up its training program."

Air Force officials testified last week that the Globemaster crashed because of locked controls designed to hold the plane against surface winds when on the ground.

The pilot, they said, has the ultimate responsibility for making sure they are unlocked before the takeoff. This also is part of the flight engineer's job, and the pilot is in position to see if they have been released, they added.

The officials said the Globemaster is being redesigned to minimize chances of future errors.

Superior Height Tells Tale As Penn State Knocks Bullets From Unbeaten Ranks 73-66

A valiant hard-fighting Gettysburg College basketball squad gave the tall, veteran Penn State cagers one of their toughest arguments of the season before bowing 73-66 Monday evening at State College.

The defeat was the first of the campaign for Coach "Hen" Bream's charges who had previously won seven in a row. State now has a 7-3 record.

Penn State's superior height was the deciding factor in the nip and tuck battle as the Lions dominated play consistently beneath the hoops. Time and again the Lions secured as many as four or five shots in succession beneath the baskets before connecting while the Bullets seldom got more than one crack at a time.

Gettysburg enjoyed a 7-2 lead in the early moments of the game and then trailed from one to seven points thereafter, always keeping within striking distance as the scoring ebb-ed.

Hold Early Lead
Jesse Arnette, who was high man for the evening with 23 tallies, opened the scoring by caging one of two fouls. Bob Pizolato put the Bullets ahead on a layup. Herm Siedzik, who played an outstanding game for the Lions, caged a foul to tie the count. Pizolato retaliated with a jump shot. Jack Keller added a foul and Pizolato took two more charity tosses to make it 7-2. A pair of goals by Piorkowski and one by Siedzik sent State ahead 8-7 after 4:15 minutes.

Sherry added a foul and Keller looped a jump toss to make it 9-9. A goal and foul by Sherry sent the Lions ahead. Late in the quarter State led 21-14 but goals by Johnny Habeeb, Dale Kleinfelter and Joe Lang plus a foul by Habeeb knotted the count at 21-21 at the quarter.

It was a tooth and nail scrap all the way in the second period with the Lions holding doggedly to their lead, largest of which was at 36-29 late in the round. The fighting Bullets fought back to cut the margin to 39-35 at half time.

Les Eckman, sophomore center, who had replaced Keller late in the second quarter, turned in some fine work under the hoops during the third period to keep the Bullets in the running. State had seven-point margin at 48-41 and an eight-point advantage at 50-42 but the Bullets refused to crack and came back each time. Three goals by Lang near the end of the stanza reduced the Lions margin to 54-53 going into the last round.

Lions Put n Freeze
There were plenty of thrills early in the fourth quarter for the large crowd. Arnette landed a goal early before Pizolato got one of Gettysburg's few tap-ins. Piorkowski netted a set shot which was followed by a free toss by Eckman. Sherry added a free toss for State. Lang looped a long toss to reduce the Lions margin to 59-58 and at that point the Lions started to pull steadily away. The Lions began a stalling game with about three minutes to go and leading 68-62. Several fouls resulted and converted tosses by Piorkowski and Arnette sewed up the verdict.

Lang again spear-headed the Bullet attack with 15 points on six goals and a trio of fouls. Habeeb and Pizolato were right behind with 13 and 12. Siedzik added 19 to Arnette's 23 to feature for the Lions.

The first twin bill of the season is scheduled for the local gymnasium Saturday evening when the Bullet varsity tangles with Lehigh and the Gettysburg freshmen make their debut in the preliminary game against the Western Maryland frosh.

NAME COACHES FOR BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE (P)—Anybody who wants to play with Baltimore's new team in the National Football League is going to have to put out to the limit, says Coach Keith Molesworth.

"If anybody doesn't want to play football, we don't want them," announced the veteran mentor, who's been playing and coaching college and pro ball since 1923. "I assure you the boys are going to be in shape."

Molesworth was approved as head coach and Ray Richards as one of his assistants yesterday by the five owners named over the week end by NFL Commissioner Bert Bell. Molesworth was backfield coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers last year, while Richards coached the line for the Los Angeles Rams.

Another appointee, Don Kellett of Philadelphia, will preside over the front office as president and general manager.

The city won a franchise in the league by purchasing 15,000 season tickets, and is slated to get official approval at an NFL meeting Jan. 23 in Philadelphia.

Yankees "Team Of Year" Third Time

GLENDAL, Calif. (P)—"That's just terrific. I feel great to hear the team received the honor," so said Manager Casey Stengel when told his World Champion New York Yankee baseball club was the "Team of the Year" for 1932 in the Associated Press poll.

That made it three straight years the honor went to the Yankees and O'Casey thinks his 1933 outfit might make the grade again.

For the "Team of the Year" honor the New Yorkers beat out the St. Louis Cardinals, who placed second and third.

Waynesboro Jr. Hi Plays Here Tonight

Smarting after two setbacks in their two opening games of the season, the Gettysburg Junior High cagers hope to break into the win column tonight when Waynesboro will be met on the local floor.

Waynesboro suffered its first defeat last Friday at the hands of the Hanover Falcons 65-30. Coach Herr's local outfit lost to Carlisle and Shippensburg last week.

Luther Sachs' jayvees, who downed Shippensburg after bowing to Carlisle, will meet the Cyclone reserves at 6:45 o'clock.

MOUNT UPSETS TERRORS 85-78

Mt. St. Mary's College's dribblers won their sixth victory against three defeats by routing Western Maryland 85-78 at Westminster Saturday evening.

The victory was the fourth straight without a loss in Mason-Dixon Conference competition for Coach Bill Clarke's Mountaineers. The point total was also the highest of the campaign for the winners.

In the preliminary game the Mount reserves nipped the Terror jayvees 49-48.

Tonight the Mount meets American University at Washington. Thursday, Loyola will be met at Baltimore and Saturday Washington College will be met at Chestertown, Md. All are Mason-Dixon games.

WILKES-BARRE JOINS EASTERN BASEBALL LOOP

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (P)—Wilkes-Barre has rejoined the Class A Eastern League of Professional Baseball after an absence of one season.

The city was readmitted last night with ownership of the club placed on a community cooperative basis.

Harry Rudolph, president of the Greater Wyoming Valley Sports Booster Association, accepted the franchise from league president Thomas H. Richardson on behalf of more than 200 organizations which backed a drive to secure funds for a park and assure an adequate advance ticket sale.

Get Community Support
Richardson had announced earlier from Scranton that operation of a franchise in that city was now also assured by the Scranton Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups which promised to support club owner Louis Baselice.

Neither team has a manager at present.

The Wilkes-Barre franchise is one formerly operated by the Boston Braves in Hartford, Conn. The city's former franchise had been transferred to Reading.

Richardson said both Scranton and Wilkes-Barre have been promised players by several major league clubs including the Philadelphia Phillies, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Cincinnati Reds, the New York Giants, the St. Louis Browns and the Detroit Tigers.

The Eastern League also operates franchises in Elmira, Binghamton, Albany and Schenectady, N. Y., and at Williamsport, Pa.

BELIEVES CAGE STAR VICTIM OF FEW "PUNKS"

VILLANOVA, Pa. (P)—Villanova College basketball coach Al Severance said Monday that reports his sophomore scoring star Bob Schafer was "taken for a ride" before a game last week describe an incident that probably was the work of "punks who had a few bucks bet on a game."

Schafer disclosed Saturday that on Tuesday night he had been called from his college dormitory room, hustled into a sedan by four men who during an hour-long ride repeatedly warned him to be "less active in future games."

The 19-year-old Schafer has been a top scorer on Villanova's good team this year. The night following the reported "ride" he scored 20 points as Villanova beat Millersville State Teachers, 88-79. Saturday night, following the disclosure, Schafer racked up 33 points to lead the Wildcats to a 94-86 win over Xavier U. of Cincinnati.

FBI Investigates
Police and the FBI have been investigating the report. The Philadelphia FBI office said today it still is inquiring into the situation to determine whether there has been any violation of the law within federal jurisdiction.

Schafer, who lives in Philadelphia, was not available for further comment on the situation today. But his coach told a reporter "I can't make myself believe that this stunt was the work of college students. They don't come that stupid; it wasn't funny."

"My guess, until I know better, is that a few punks had a few bucks bet on a basketball game and inquired about the point spread (gambler's odds) between our team and Xavier," Severance said.

"I assume then that they were told it was very close and figured 'if that's the way it is, maybe we can rattle a few points out of this kid.'"

JACKIE MAY BE IN FINAL YEAR

NEW YORK (P)—This may be the last year for Jackie Robinson, highest salaried player in Brooklyn history and the Dodgers' greatest drawing card.

Although he said, "I hope to have another year after this one," the brilliant second baseman indicated during a press conference yesterday that he might call it quits after the 1953 season. The conference was staged by the Dodgers to announce the signing of Brooklyn's "Big Three" that included Robinson, Peeewe Reese and Roy Campanella.

"I'm certain I have one more good year left," Robinson said after affixing his signature to a contract calling for an estimated $38,000. "I hope to have another year."

Dodger Vice President E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi declined to divulge the figures but admitted Robinson was the highest paid player on the club and that the total salaries of the trio was just under $100,000. It was estimated that Reese would draw $35,000 and Campanella $25,000.

Teachers' Cagers Battle For Lead

Millersville, 3-1, 115 points; Kutztown, 2-0, 100; Slippery Rock, 1-0, 100; Lock Haven, 2-1, 77; and California, 1-1, 70.

AMERICAN FIVE UPSETS MOUNT CAGERS 77-62

Mt. St. Mary's was knocked out of first place in the Mason-Dixon Basketball conference when it dropped a hard fought 77-62 decision to American University at Washington Monday evening.

Both teams now have 4-1 conference marks while Loyola and Randolph-Macon each have 3-0 records.

The victory was costly to Bill Clarke's Mountaineers who lost Captain Ted Kachowski when he suffered a leg injury in running into a table. The injury required 15 stitches and will shelve Kachowski indefinitely.

The Mounts took a 12-9 lead in the slow first quarter but American

Long Rains, Then Ice And Heavy Winds Cause Severe Damage In County

For hundreds of motorists who drove through the Mt. Newman-Buchanan Valley section of the South Mountains following the weekend ice storm, the scenes above made a winter wonderland. But for farmers, highway employees and utility company workmen, they meant only thousands of dollars damage and many hours of hard work. These photographs were taken by a Gettysburg Times photographer in the Buchanan Valley section, most of them on the highway which leads from the Lincoln Highway at the top of Mt. Newman to St. Ignace Church. The tremendous weight of the ice which formed on branches of trees is shown, as tops were broken off and large trees bent over to the ground. The mountain top on Monday was a fairland as the bright sun made every free, bush and blade of grass glisten like a field of diamonds. (Gettysburg Times Photos)

440 Big Planes Hurl Crushing Blows Against Red Life Line

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force hurled a crushing 440-plane strike against Communist rail facilities deep in Northwest Korea today. It was the seventh hammering blow on the Red life line in five days.

U. S. Sabre jets, flying protective cover, downed two Communist MIGs, probably destroyed one and damaged another, the Air Force said.

The fighter-bombers streamed north in morning and afternoon raids of 220 planes each only a few hours after B29 Superforts plastered the area with 100 tons of bombs in a night strike.

Biggest news on the ground front was that two fresh Chinese Communist armies—about 70,000 men—have moved into the line on the Western Front. Intelligence officers said there was no indication of any new Red offensive in that area, however. They said one badly mauled Chinese army was being pulled out of the line.

Pulverizing Attack
The warplanes piled rubble atop rubble in their pulverizing attack on a bridge complex north of Sinanju. The bridges span the Chongchon River and form a bottleneck in the supply line which funnels Red war equipment from Manchuria and China southward to the front.

Clouds of smoke billowed high over the target and prevented full observation. But the Air Force said the raiding warplanes scored numerous direct hits.

The Air Force renewed its attacks on the rail facilities around Sinanju after giving the Reds a brief respite. Apparently they let the Communists repair the bridges. Now they're out to knock them down again.

Twelve B29s flew through strong winds and icing conditions last night to drop their high explosives. The Reds threw up some anti-aircraft fire and two Communist night fighters made firing passes. There was no announcement of Allied losses, in any.

300 Bombers Hit Bridges
Two hundred fighter bombers hit the bridges and rail lines yesterday and last night 10 Superforts paid their fourth straight night visit. Today's raid included strikes at 23 Communist gun positions around the bridges.

One flier, Lt. William C. Barnes, whose parents live at Bogota, Colombia, came back to his base in flames with most of the right wing of his thunderjet burned off. Sabre pilots got one of the MIGs without firing a shot. The Red plane was maneuvered out of control and plunged to earth.

The second kill went to Col. Roy al N. Baker, McKinney, Tex., making him the leading ace still in combat in the Korean war. Baker now has seven kills.

STAFF FOR '53 IS INSTALLED

At the Youth for Christ service on Saturday at the Memorial EUB Church, the new director and staff for 1953 were installed by the president of the executive council, Orville R. Faust, Biglerville.

The Youth for Christ motto, "Holding Forth the Word of Life," was given as "an inspirational challenge for service."

Glenn Hess succeeds Joel Korver as director with the following staff members elected by the executive council: Associate director, Rev. Laverne Rohrbaugh; secretary, Thelma Coulson; recording secretary, Fay Heller; treasurer, Laverne Starnier; pianist, Arlean Faust; assistant, Virgie Hess; organist, Jean Little; editor of news letter, Nancy Sanders; associate editor, June Sanders; reporter, Arlean Faust; assistant, Helen Meals; historians, Fred and Edith Raffensperger; head usher, Charles Wolf; head usherette, Betty Clapper, and pastor counselor, the Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee.

The following committee chairmen have been appointed by the director: Program, Arlean Faust; visual aid, Joel Korver; prayer, Harry Funt; evangelism, the Rev. Harold V. March; music, Shirley Rohrbaugh; book table, Fay Heller, and tracts, Betty Clapper.

A gift from his staff was presented to Joel Korver, the retiring director, in appreciation of his work in the past two years.

The Rev. Paul Reaser, pastor of Union Lutheran Church, York, brought the message.

On Saturday the speaker will be Rev. Helmut Dyck, pastor of the Mennonite Church, Fairfield. The public is invited to attend.

year. The Air Force said they destroyed 105 Communist trucks on North Korean highways last night.

Raiders Stab Red Lines

An Allied raiding party stabbed into Red lines in bone-chilling pre-dawn cold today and warmed up at least one section of the front. The Allied troops sprayed a Communist hill position with raw napalm (jellied gasoline), then set it afire with phosphorus grenades. The raiders said they killed seven Chinese Reds and wounded 15 in fierce fights which followed. The action flared east of Panmunjom on the western front.

Another U. N. raiding party jabbed into Red lines on the Central Front and reported 10 Chinese killed.

Only Red offensive action was on the Eastern Front, where 80 Communist infantrymen dented the Allied lines for a brief period. The Allies fought back in a two-hour battle.

Pride Of Red Boss

Intelligence officers who reported the fresh Chinese armies moving into the Western Front area said one—the 47th—was the personal pride and joy of Red boss Mao Tse-tung. It saw six months of Korean action—none of it heavy—in 1951. The other new unit was not identified.

The army being relieved was identified as the 38th, which took a beating from South Korean soldiers on White Horse Mountain four months ago.

Each Chinese Army numbers about 35,000 men—the equivalent of a U. S. Army corps.

EXECUTIVE BD.

at Atlantic City February 14-19.

Contract For O'Brien
John O'Brien, who had served as substitute teacher for Col. Jacob M. Sheads while he was in service, was granted a temporary professional contract as teacher of driver education at the local high school.

Chris Angioris presented to the school board a request of the proposed Adams County Athletic Association to be granted use of the high school football field on Saturday nights during the next grid season for a semi-professional football team to be sponsored by the association. Angioris said the association plans to seek incorporation soon. The executive committee asked Angioris to report back after his group obtains its incorporation papers and the board's attorneys will then take up the question of responsibility in the event the board should grant use of the field.

Heating Troubles Continue
The heating system at the high school is still not properly regulated, it was revealed at the meeting. Board Vice President Ralph V. Guise, in reporting on his check of the system, said, "Personally I think they got it hooked up backwards." Dr. Keefe said the system sometimes "keeps the rooms hot enough at night to hold classes. Then in the middle of the morning it's cold enough to be operating on a night time schedule. And to make matters more confusing one room will be hot and another cold."

Keefe said heating engineers who installed the system are scheduled to be here today "for a final review of the situation."

Plans for a dinner meeting of members of the boards in the Gettysburg jointure and the teachers were outlined. Dr. Keefe and Dr. Ralph D. Wickerham, president of the board, were named as a committee for the dinner to be held February 12 at 6 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

Committee Gets Reports

Vice President Guise reported on the activities of the band auxiliary. Keefe and Wickerham reported on the hearings held before a board of viewers to establish a price on the property taken by the school board in the Colt Park Development.

The Gettysburg High School Athletic fund report showed the association as having a balance of $4,442.72 at the beginning of December. Receipts that month were $461.20 and expenses $279.89, leaving a balance January 1 of $4,624.12.

The First National Bank of Gettysburg, treasurer for the joint district, reported the following for December: balance, $22,423.75; tuition, $35,327.04; other receipts, $103.46; expenditures, general control, $1,458.41; instruction, $27,923.47; auxiliary agencies, $785.69; operation of plant, $3,515.62; maintenance of plant, $2,381.79; capital outlay, $158, making total expenses $36,223 and leaving a balance as of January 5 of $21,631.25.

Income for the cafeteria was reported as: Balance, $1,856.44; deposits, $1,908.04; Federal aid, $484.02; Hoffman orphanage payment, $155.90. Expenditures: Salaries, $501.06; provisions, $1,513.56; maintenance, $59.03, leaving a balance of $2,330.75. Net worth of the cafeteria was listed as $3,309.36.

College Grad To Study In England

Dr. Dean B. Olewiler, Red Lion, will leave next month for four months of study in England, prior to becoming a medical missionary of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Africa.

Dr. Olewiler was graduated from Red Lion High School in 1940 and Gettysburg College in 1944, before serving nearly two years in Army, including duty in the Pacific. In 1951 he was graduated from Jefferson School of Medicine, Philadelphia, and then served his internship and did four months of surgical study at Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, La., leaving there December 1.

prizes in the Farm Show, according to the list of awards announced today.

Caroline Heimerer, Gettysburg R. 4, won fourth place in the exhibit of drop cookies, District 2 East among 4-H Club classes.

In the open classes of the Food Show, Mrs. Raymond Slaybaugh, Aspers, won third place in Class 13-A for iced yellow butter layer cakes, and Donna Slaybaugh, Aspers, placed fourth in the same class.

Heisey and Sons, Greencastle, won the State Horticultural Association award when his bushel basket of Stayman apples was declared the best of all apples entered.

The rural talent festival "Susquehanna," will open at the Farm Show tonight at 7:30 o'clock. A group of Adams Countians will participate.

LIONS OFFICIAL

District Governor Keller after the club session. A Finance Committee meeting and chorus rehearsal also were held.

C. L. Eicholtz, New Oxford, talked to the club about a "Mental Piling System" as a memory aid. Asserting that "you don't remember anything you haven't learned," Mr. Eicholtz explained a system for remembering by using "mental hooks" for associating items to be remembered.

Governor Keller talked on the growth of Lionism from its founding by Melvin Jones more than three decades ago and congratulated the officers of the local club for the record of the organization here.

Activities fund report showed deposits of $2,936.48 during December and withdrawals of $2,128.06 leaving a balance of $10,117.59.

The executive committee voted to pay Mt. Joy Twp. for use of its bus during the recent tour of schools held for the directors, with the Mt. Joy board to submit its statement of cost at the next meeting. Each board was asked to appoint a member to the disciplinary committee set up at the December meeting of the joint board.

RELEASE DRIVER

ney Daniel E. Teeter, who assisted in questioning of witnesses, said there will be further investigation of the accident but that at present no charges are being laid against Hoisington. "It seems now that Hoisington should not have started across the highway in the face of the approaching Bacon truck but on the other hand Bacon should have seen the predicament ahead and should have been able to stop or nearly stop, thus raising a legal question of responsibility for the death," he said.

Members of the jury were Frank Mumper, Jacob Bream, Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, J. Harold Miller, David McCullough and Hugh C. McIlhenny. They deliberated 25 minutes after the testimony was completed.

Principal testimony was given by two eye-witnesses—one man who saw the crash by means of his rear view mirror and the other as he followed Bacon's truck down the hill.

Herman E. Bechtel, Westminster R. 2, said Hoisington had been following him for several miles and came up very close back of Bechtel when the latter stopped before crossing Rt. 15 in York Springs. Bechtel said he saw truck lights on the south when he started across the intersection and when he realized Hoisington was following him across the highway, the witness said: "I just said to myself, that's going to be an accident."

He saw the crash in his mirror and recalled that "sparks flew as high as the buildings." Bechtel stopped but then drove on to his place of employment and was grilled on the stand by Dr. Crist as to why he had not returned to the scene to offer assistance to the injured or report the fact he was a witness. Bechtel said he hadn't wanted to be late for work and did not learn until that evening that a man had been killed in the crash.

Blames Both Drivers

Kenneth Sites, Fairfield, enroute to Dillsburg where he was working, said Bacon was driving at about 35 miles an hour and gaining speed as he descended the York Springs hill. Sites said he saw no stop light or other indication that Bacon tried to stop before the crash. Sites expressed the opinion that if Bacon had "braked and stayed on his own side of the road, he could have avoided the accident." He admitted however that if he had been Hoisington he wouldn't have pulled out in front of Bacon. He said Bacon was near the crest of the hill when Hoisington started across.

Corp. Jack Bartlett of the state police displayed pictures made at the scene after the crash and Pvt. Clem Sackney, who investigated the accident from the Gettysburg substation, was the initial witness. He quoted Hoisington as saying he had looked both ways before attempting the crossing and had seen lights "breaking the crest of the hill" when he was a quarter of the way across the highway. Bacon hit the Hoisington trailer just in front of the dual rear wheels, he said.

Hold Dillsburg Man For April Grand Jury

A Dillsburg R. D. man, accused by state police of teaching his 13-year-old son to steal, has waived a hearing on eight charges of burglary and larceny.

The defendant, Lawrence E. Dick, 45, was freed on $2,000 bail after appearing in York County court, and was directed to appear in April court. The charges had been filed before Strinstown Justice of the Peace Marlet Sipe.

State police from York and Carlisle reported Dick's son had told them his father taught him how to "lift" articles when they visited Dillsburg stores. The charges were brought in connection with thefts reported in the stores and on Dillsburg area farms. Dick was arrested December 30.

Identical interests and are interdependent. Once the farmer raised all he needed on the farm. Today the farmer, to get high production and high quality, must be a specialist. The dairy farmer probably does not even use his own milk. He is a specialist in production and finds it cheaper and gets a better product by having the dairy deliver two quarts of milk to his door, just like any other customer.

Seek Quality Crops
"During Pennsylvania Week you probably heard that Pennsylvania has everything, that it is the only state in the union that could raise, equip and feed an army of a million men. As additional proof that Pennsylvania has everything, 60 per cent of the total production of mushrooms in the United States comes from one county in Pennsylvania."

"Pennsylvania farmers do not have the largest yields per acre. Although they have large yields, we go in more for quality, and still produce large quantities of food. That quality of Pennsylvania foods is noted throughout the U. S. We seem, in Pennsylvania, to get a better flavor in our products than they do anywhere else, with the possible exception of the Great Lakes area. That flavor seems to come from a combination of land and water providing something a little extra for Pennsylvania farm products."

Fifty-three attended the meeting with President Richard E. Dreas presiding. Members were asked to visit the Bender Funeral Home this evening to pay their last respects to deceased member C. Arthur Brame. Major William Lipsey led group singing and Dr. Frederick Shaffer was accompanied. John A. Hauser, president of C. H. Musselman & Co., Biglerville, introduced the speaker.

RESUME CLEANUP

Winebrenner said. Persons having trees to be removed or trimmed on curb lines are asked to notify the borough engineer.

IRRITATED JAPS WARN RUSSIANS ABOUT BORDERS

TOKYO (AP)—Japan, irritated by "at least 20 or 30" violations of its borders, today warned Russia against sending warplanes over Japanese territory.

A foreign office spokesman said U. S. defense planes would shoot down intruders if necessary.

The U. S. had approved Japan's ultimatum in advance.

Take Necessary Measures
Japan thus in effect rattled a U. S. saber against its old enemy to the north. It did not name Russia, but left no doubt that's the country it meant.

Shortly after the blunt warning, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters announced the Far East command had ordered his defense chiefs in Japan to take "all measures necessary to prevent further violations of Japan's security or acts which endanger U. S. forces."

A Japanese government spokesman said planes flying without permission over Japan would be ordered to land.

"When they don't follow our orders," Mitsuo Tanaka of the Foreign Office told a news conference, "if necessary (we will) shoot them down."

"Grave Menace"
Tanaka's statement came only a few hours after the Japanese government—with full U. S. backing—warned that Japan and the U. S.

would take steps to drive off intruding aircraft.

"Violations of our territorial air over Hokkaido by foreign military planes have of late become increasingly frequent," the government statement said.

"Such trespassers are not only forbidden under international law but they constitute also a grave menace to the security of Japan."

The warning could be aimed only at Soviet Russia. Only six miles of water separate Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island, from the Russian-held Kurile Islands.

Superfort Lost

Last fall, a U. S. B29 Superfort disappeared in the Hokkaido area after meeting another plane which flew in from the direction of the Kuriles.

The U. S., in a stern protest, charged Russia with wanton destruction of an unarmed American bomber and demanded compensation. It warned the Soviets of pos-in Pennsylvania's five-cent a gallon gasoline tax will not be sought at the present time, says a source close to Gov. John S. Fine.

"The governor's present attitude is against any increase," the source said in explaining that Fine was "misunderstood" when he asked the General Assembly for more funds for highway construction.

Quick protests were lodged by the state's bus industry and the Pennsylvania Home Rule Association when reports circulated around

Capitol Hill that at least a cent increase would be sought by the administration.

Situation Can Change

Harvey Swift, president of the Pennsylvania Bus Association, said any increase in gas taxes would force a boost in transit fares.

Thomas S. Stevenson, Altoona, president of the Home Rule Association, said, "The Highways Department already has a larger annual income . . . than it can efficiently and economically spend."

The spokesman for the administration who asked that his name be withheld said, however, the situation could change before the Assembly adjourns if the federal government should withdraw its highway construction aid program.

SOUTH KOREANS REPULSE HEAVY RED ASSAULT

By JIM BECKER

SEOUL (AP)—The heaviest Red assault of the new year smashed against the lines of a newly-activated South Korean division Monday. The Allied soldiers held their ground, killed an estimate 213 of the attacking 800 Reds, and forced the Communists into retreat after three hours of savage close-quarter fighting.

Battles flared with renewed bitterness all along the frozen Korean front. Altogether the Reds hurled nearly 1,500 men into the fighting in bloody but futile attempts to dent the U. N. lines in pre-dawn darkness.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the main Red blow fell against the Republic of Korea 12th Division on the mountainous eastern front. Gen. James A. Van Fleet announced the activation of the 12th and 15th ROK divisions only two months ago. This was the first indication that either had seen combat.

Pound Northern Targets

In the air war, Allied fighter-bombers roared north in followup raids on the vital Sianju supply center deep in Northwest Korea. Ten U. S. B-29s dropped 10,000 tons of high explosives on rail yards there Sunday night. The trip-hammer blows are part of a concerted effort to smash a main Red supply line from Manchuria to the front lines.

The Eastern Front fighting flared northeast of the Punchbowl. North Korean Reds struck through a snowstorm with 650 men in one attack and 150 more in another assault just to the east. Both battles opened just after midnight.

The Communists stormed forward behind a curtain of blistering artillery and mortar fire. Allied soldiers met their charge with tank fire, rifles, machine guns, mortars and artillery. Both Red forces were hurled back.

Emmitsburg

EMMITSBURG—The regular meeting of St. Joseph's High School Parent-Teacher Association, will be held this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. President Dominic Greco announced that guest speaker will be Dr. Edward I. Fenlon, instructor in philosophy and education at Mt. St. Mary's College.

Col. Thomas J. Frailey, president of the Board of Commissioners, announced at the meeting of the Emmitsburg Council recently that the town streets will be resurfaced, in early spring. The board met recently with the officials of the State Roads Commission and an agreement was reached to start the work, possibly in March. The blinker at the Square will be removed and a traffic light installed, by the town. The commission will then resurface the two main routes, 32 and 15, through the town limits. The Square will also receive a smooth, fine top-dressing. Local residents were asked to cooperate in having old trees removed from their properties before the resurfacing of the roads.

Other business taken up at the meeting included the discussion of a curb for the town streets. A committee was appointed to investigate the price of curbing and a contract may be let in the near future for 1,000 feet of curbing from the Square up North Seton Ave.

Four stop signs will be installed at the alley intersections at the properties of Thomas Bollinger and Mrs. Genevieve Elder. This road is used by the school children, as it leads to the back entrance of the Emmitsburg High School, and has far as proved to be a menace to their welfare. With the placing of the stop signs here, all cars will have to stop before proceeding.

Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and daughter, Barbara, and Mrs. Robert Topper were entertained at cards on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Shorb.

Held is Mrs. Katharine Smutko, wife of a steelworker. Her husband, Nicholas, said his wife had been questioned on Sunday by county officials and state police about the slaying before her arrest.

The victim, Margaret Bankowski, lived about a mile from the Smutkos in this steel town near Pittsburgh. She disappeared Jan. 26, 1949, and her body was found Feb. 4 after a long search.

COUNTY CARS IN YORK MISHAPS

Mrs. Clara L. Haney, York, Saturday morning suffered a laceration of the scalp and an ankle bruise when she was struck by a car as she crossed Market Street against a red light at Richland Avenue, York, city police reported.

She was taken to York Hospital by the car's driver, Clarence L. Hall, Littlestown, and discharged.

Three cars were waiting at the intersection for the light to change at the time of the accident, about 7 a.m. An operator of one of the two other cars told police the woman darted across after the light had changed. He thought she would be struck by either of two cars waiting on the west side of the intersection. One of those vehicles was Hall's.

Eight-hundred dollars damage was done to two automobiles in a collision at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, according to police.

Police reported that a car driven by Kurvin E. Schrum, New Oxford R. 1, eastward on Market Street near Hartman, cut over into the right traffic lane from the center, causing a car driven by John E. Smith Jr., 2511 Northland Ave., York, to skid on ice at the edge of the right lane, and strike the car of John R. Ruby, parked in front of his home, 1150 E. Market St.

The impact drove the parked car 20 feet into a tree. Damage to Smith vehicle was set at $500, and to the parked car, $300.

Farmer Kills Woman And Then Suicides

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP)—An elderly farmer shot himself to death on Sunday after killing a 59-year-old woman in the kitchen of her modest farm home in nearby Sagamore.

Dead are Mrs. Josephine Budrek and John Bohan, 66, of Sagamore. Coroner C. M. Woodward of Armstrong County issued a murder-suicide verdict.

State Police Cpl. M. M. Bolosky said Bohan pumped three bullets into Mrs. Budrek from a 22 caliber pistol while paying a visit. He said no motive has been determined.

Bohan had lived in a tenant house on the Budrek farm for several years before moving away recently. He fled to the unoccupied house and fired a bullet into his head, Bolosky said. His body was found sprawled on a davenport about four hours after the shooting of Mrs. Budrek.

HST IS BLAMED FOR DESERTIONS

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in some of the bitterest terms he has directed at President Truman, says the administration's policies are to blame if American military desertions are excessive.

The feud between the Chief Executive and the man he fired as U. S. and U. N. Far Eastern commander reached a new peak over the week end on the question of desertions which lately have run to 47,000 since the start of the Korean War.

Columnist Doris Fleson of the Bell Syndicate said on Friday that Truman blamed politically-inspired attacks on his Korean War policy for desertions. She said Truman called MacArthur "insubordinate" and asserted he had "set a bad example." The White House on Saturday described her interview with Truman as accurate.

Saturday night MacArthur, in a statement released by his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, replied:

Lack of Faith In HST
"If such desertions are indeed excessive, despite the recent denials of the Defense Department, they can more realistically be ascribed to a lack of faith in President Truman's policies of appeasement . . ."

MacArthur in the 400-word statement termed some of the President's attacks on him as "puerile" . . . "unjust and arbitrary" . . . "obvious spleen" . . . "completely untrue" . . . "unfounded and, indeed, venomous."

The general concluded his statement in these words: "Perhaps, too, he (Truman) is animated by pique at the President-elect's interest in ascertaining my views on Korea."

In Washington, a White House spokesman said Truman would have nothing to say on the latest MacArthur statement.

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The body of 75-year-old George Cunningham, of Norristown was found lying in a ditch behind the Montgomery County hospital building here on Sunday, almost 20 hours after he had been discharged from the institution.

Cunningham was taken to the hospital Saturday night after a motorist, Orville R. Campbell, 32, of West Conshohocken reported that Cunningham had walked into the side of his car, Def. Sgt. Robert Baxter said.

When hospital attendants found no sign of injuries, Baxter added, they discharged Cunningham.

The meal will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society. The speaker for the occasion will be Harry O. Smith, principal of the Frederick High School, Frederick, Md. The speaker is an active layman in the Potomac Synod and a member of the Glade Reformed Church. Mr. Smith served as head of the committee for the national meeting of the Brotherhood of Evangelical and Reformed Church last summer. During the program, excerpts will be read from the church minutes taken during the pastorate of the late Rev. Dr. A. O. Bartholomew. Music for the evening will be in charge of Stewart N. Long, who will sing the solo selection "Without a Song." Favorite quartet selections will be sung by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, Stewart N. Long, Robert H. Thomas and Robert H. Miller.

A slate of officers for 1953 will be presented at the January meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association, Inc. on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Fish and Game Clubhouse, Germany Twp., near town, as prepared by the nominating committee composed of Dr. Richard M. ## Find Troop Transport Wreckage; No Survivors Of Air Tragedy

FISH HAVEN, Idaho (P)—A big search party gathered at Beaver Basin south of here early to reach the burned, crumpled wreckage of a C-46 troop transport which crashed last week with 40 persons aboard.

Two para-medical rescue troopers, who spent a lonely night long vigil in subfreezing weather by the wreck on White Pine Ridge about seven miles west of here, found no survivors when they parachuted to the site yesterday.

Air Force officers, veteran Idaho woodsmen and peace officers manned the cortege of military vehicles, 12 ambulances and two snowmobiles. The party will enter the uninhabited wilderness on a Forest Service road, then travel two or three miles on foot. The hike will be up a steep slope, heavily wooded and cut with deep crevices and ledges.

Vanished Wednesday

The plane, which vanished Wednesday en route from Seattle to Ft. Jackson, S. C., carrying returning Korean War veterans, hit the mountain with an explosive impact at the 8,500-foot level, about 700 feet from the top. The para-medics said only the tail section remained intact. The 37 Korean veterans aboard were en route to their Southland homes. The three-member crew included a young stewardess.

Maj. Dick Burt of Ogden, a Civil Air Patrol pilot, spotted the wreckage yesterday. Later Lt. Dan E. Fitzgerald, 43rd Air Rescue Squadron, McChord Field, Wash., who lives in Camden, N. J., and his fellow para-medical, T. Sgt. J. J. Weis of Pittsburgh, Pa., parachuted to the mountain slope.

The 16,107 fans who witnessed the Toronto Maple Leafs-Chicago Black Hawks game on Sunday, Dec. 7, represented the largest crowd to see a hockey game in Chicago in three years.

TRUMAN FUSS WITH OIL FIRMS BIG MYSTERY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—Chalk up one of the strangest episodes in President Truman's administration, the story of the government and the oil companies. It has more twists than a pretzel.

There are seven giant companies in the world's oil trade, five of them American: Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, Socony-Vacuum and Gulf Oil. The other two are British-Dutch: Anglo-Iranian and Royal Dutch Shell.

A question has long been asked: Are they actually a cartel or combine which fixes prices and oil production?

The Federal Trade Commission, (FTC) which has jurisdiction over antitrust laws, several years ago began to examine the oil industry. In August, 1951, it produced a 370-page report which it turned over to the Senate Small Business Committee.

Suppressed Report

For more than a year Truman wouldn't let the report be made public. It was not in the national interest to do so, he said.

Sen. Hennings, Missouri Democrat, became indignant over the suppression. The seven companies, he said, dominate U. S. foreign policy in the Middle East, Indonesia and Venezuela.

Finally, last August Truman let the FTC report be published by the Senate Small Business Committee, of which Sen. Sparkman of Alabama was chairman. Sparkman said he believed "its release

LEADERSHIP FOR WEST EUROPE IS BIG CHALLENGE FOR EISENHOWER

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—The first

at this time is not likely to jeopardize our national security or undermine the aims of our foreign policy.

The report described most of the world's oil as controlled by the seven giants and said they were interlocked through a "corporate complex of companies they control."

Atty. Gen. McGranery announced a federal grand jury would investigate. The companies denied any wrongdoing. McGranery said his Justice Department would work up both criminal and civil proceedings. Criminal action is intended to punish past offenses; civil action is designed to prevent repetition of the same offenses in the future.

Sought Records

The companies were ordered to produce their records for the grand jury. But the jury couldn't get started. The companies fought in court against turning over their records. They lost even in the Supreme Court.

At last, by court order last December, the five American companies were instructed to turn over their records to the government by yesterday, Jan. 12. At last it seemed the jury would be able to get down to work.

Then word leaked out that Truman's National Security Council, made up of his top advisers, told him that for reasons of national security the grand jury investigation should be dropped. Federal Trade Commissioner Stephen Spingarn, who wasn't at the meeting, said it was held last Friday.

And yesterday Truman told McGranery to pull up on the criminal investigation because of "factors which have emerged since the institution of the current grand jury investigation."

Withdraw Action

McGranery dutifully called in the oil company lawyers and told them the criminal investigation would be dropped if—it turned out to be an irritating if—they would provide their records so the government could start civil action against them. The lawyers stomped out. One of them shouted "black-mail."

Now, having scratched his head a bit, it would seem McGranery could go ahead with the criminal case, or drop the whole business, or the company lawyers might calm down, or something. But no matter how much they were burned up, it probably didn't compare with the scorched feeling of Spingarn, whose staff prepared the FTC report and who has been slugging away at the oil companies.

He visited Truman yesterday and came away, saying: "It looks like the oil companies have performed one of the greatest snafus in history... a super-promoter's job of snowing something under with baloney."

great challenge to Gen. Eisenhower's presidency is in his ability to provide both spiritual and practical leadership for Western Europe.

Spiritual leadership in the sense of inducing the Europeans to rise above their ancient nationalisms and suspicions and to achieve some measure of unity for the common good in the fight with communism.

Practical leadership in the sense of guiding the arrangements—economic, political and military—which will give unity meaning through adequate defense in case of war with Russia or, better, in discouraging such a war.

Starting To Backslide

As late as last spring it seemed the unity and the defense might be translated into reality. In the past week hopes for both suffered staggering blows. Both France and Germany began to backslide.

Several years ago, while dismayed by the uncertainty of Russian intentions, the countries of Western Europe realized the necessity of common defense and began moving in that direction through the Atlantic Pact.

What seemed necessary was a new concept: a single army made up of troops from the pact partners on the continent, a kind of merged army, under a single leadership.

Yet, without troops from West Germany as part of this army it would seem like shadow army since West Germany, severed from Eastern Germany by the Russians, would be in the direct line of attack.

But first an important detail had to be taken care of the big war-time allies—U. S., Britain, France—were still technically at war with Germany.

They couldn't let her re-arm, if only to the extent of supplying divisions for the unified European army, without some peace arrangements. So they signed with West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer what was in effect a peace treaty.

Wasn't Final

This was done in late May, just before Eisenhower returned home from his NATO command to run for the presidency. And the next day France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Belgium and Holland signed an agreement for a united army.

It was not final. The agreement had to be ratified by the respective Parliaments of the six nations, which called themselves the European Defense Community, France's Foreign Minister Schuman, main sponsor in his country for European unity, hoped to get ratification. But he had opposition from Frenchmen who shuddered at the thought of a re-armed Germany.

In West Germany Adenauer,
